Lublin invites you

Lublin is the largest Polish city and academic centre east of the Vistula and the capital of the Lubelskie Voivodship with a population of 350 000. It is one of the oldest cities in Poland. When in 1317 Lublin was granted civic rights, it strengthened its position among the important towns of Poland and Europe. The celebrated Lublin Fairs attracted merchants from the Caucasus and Black Sea regions, Lithuania and the interior of Russia. In 1569 the Lublin Union treaty was signed – uniting Poland and Lithuania into a one body state which would last until the end of the 18th century. In 1918, after almost 130 years of occupation, the Temporary Government of the Republic of Poland was formed in Lublin, giving birth to the modern state.

Lublin Old Town is the best preserved Medieval town in Poland. Across an area of 7 hectares on a hill, there are 100 historic mansions and other important buildings. In the Old Town Market stands the classical Old Town Hall – once the seat of the Crown Tribunal, surrounded by mansions dating back to the 15th century. The Old Town is charming with its nightlife and a multitude of friendly restaurants, cool bars and relaxing cafes.

Lublin today is a confident, young, vibrant and cultural place. There are nine centres of high education and about 100 000 students in the city. It's the largest and most dynamically growing city of Eastern Poland and one of the most important economic and cultural centres in the EU's eastern border.

At only 175 kilometers from Warsaw, Lublin is not only worth visiting solely for its monuments. It's the largest cultural center in the east of Poland and the city of important sports events like UEFA EURO U21 2017.
